BookSpeak! Poems About Books by Laura Purdie Salas is a collection of twenty-one poems that celebrate books in all shapes and forms: their physical properties, the stories within them, and the readers who love them. Each poem is complemented by Josée Bisailon's clever artwork, which is a mixture of drawings, collage, and digital montage.

Poems About Books by Laura Purdie Salas A few weeks ago, I attended the launch for Jenn Hubbard's new book, Try Not to Breathe , at Children's Book World in Haverford, PA. I consider CBW to be my "local" indie, despite being the better part of an hour's drive from my home in New Jersey, since it really is the closest independent children's book store to where I live.

Other writers have written memorable poems about books and about reading, but Laura's BookSpeak is full of poems in books' own voices. And, just as there are so many kinds of books, there are different kinds of bookish voices, like the first poem, obviously from one of those books that make one smile all the way through.
